

OUTLINE OF SPEECH TO BE DELIVERED TUESDAY 19 MAY 1998 AT 13H00:

OPEN SOURCE INTELLIGENCE, THE AFRICAN RENAISSANCE, AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT:
THE EMERGING NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE MODEL FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

SPEECH BY MR LINDA MTI,
COORDINATOR FOR INTELLIGENCE,
SOUTH AFRICA
TO OSS '98 GLOBAL INTELLIGENCE FORUM
WASHINGTON, D.C., MAY 1998

1. INTRODUCTION -

- ★ Importance of Representatives from Developing World being involved in Conferences of this nature - Developed World hearing the voice of the Developing World, Developing World assessing what of the Developed World's approach is relevant for own experience.
- ★ Importance of the three concepts - sustainable development, African Renaissance and open source intelligence in South Africa's intelligence dispensation. Issues raised to be addressed go beyond intelligence field. Intelligence cannot address them while there is no agreement on the definition of them. This agreement is hard for the Developed countries, and more so for the developing countries

2. DEFINING THE CONCEPTS -

- ★ In order to answer question of how open source intelligence can assist in building sustainable development and the African Renaissance, have to have agreement on what is meant by sustainable development and African renaissance.
- ★ Sustainable development - Developing countries and UNDP approach
Neo classical cost benefit approach
World Bank approach
- ★ African Renaissance - driven by business?
Driven by intellectual capacity?
As a cultural exchange?
As redirecting the continent politically?

3. NATIONAL SECURITY IN SOUTH AFRICA

- ★ Concept of National Security
- ★ Inter-relationship between national security, sustainable development and African Renaissance

4. OPEN SOURCE INTELLIGENCE

- ★ Conceptualisation of Open source intelligence has same divergences
- ★ Open source intelligence and its appropriateness to Africa
- ★ SA Intelligence community and approaches to open source intelligence
  - Civilian Intelligence
  - Police/crime intelligence
  - Defence Intelligence

5. CONCLUSION:

- ★ Towards intelligence system and national security policy that equips governments of developing countries to build sustainable development and African Renaissance.
