

OPEN SOURCE ANALYSIS IN TODAY'S ORGANIZATION

- WHAT ANALYSIS?
 - What are organizational objectives?
 - What are the requirements for Open Source Information?
 - What questions must analysis answer?
 - What type of analysis is required?
 - What critical timelines drive the need for answers?
- WHO DOES THE ANALYSIS?
 - What qualifications are required?
 - How many analysts?
 - What assets are required?
- WHO MANAGES OPEN SOURCE ANALYSIS
WITHIN THE ORGANIZATION?

Decision-Maker
Integration, Reflection & Decision

Information Management Staff
Collection Management, Fusion, Analysis & Presentation

R A N D O M

EXISTING INPUT
normal staff process,
counterparts,
family/friends

OPEN
SOURCE
INPUT
*Internet & private sector
fee-for-service*

S E C R E T

INFORMATION UNIVERSE

Relevant and Irrelevant -- Open and Secret

OSS '99 PROCEEDINGS Global Information Forum Information Superiority through the Collection, Sharing and Analysis of Relevant Information: A New Approach to Operationally-Driven All-Source Information Management Washington, D.C. 24-26
May 1999 - Link Page

Previous New Developments in Access to Russian Military Mapping

Next JV2O 10 Initiative: Virtual Information Center

Return to Electronic Index Page